

Sample Trainer Bio: German Language in Germany

With a Master's degree in Higher Education and Work from Kassel University, the instructor has been teaching for some 17 years.

The trainer is a native German speaker with a wide range of experience teaching German and English to both individuals and groups of up to 12 individuals in semi-intensive and intensive courses.

The trainer has extensive experience working with languages for business purposes in corporate settings and is used to setting achievable goals in this area, carrying out assessments to establish the students' language level, tapping into an individual's role in the company, and seeing how these roles can be aligned these with language skills they must acquire.

The instructor's teaching style is to focus on full immersion: pairing individuals up and having them speak with each other as much as possible to assess their progress in the target language. The instructor also likes to work with textbooks and grammar books as support material.
